Privacy Notice

At Forresters, we take privacy seriously and we are committed to protecting it. You can view our updated Privacy Notice at <https://forresters-ip.com/forresters-privacy-notice/>.

Personal information we collect

We collect personal data about you that you give to us via our website, our social media platforms, and/or by corresponding with us by phone, post, email or otherwise and is provided entirely voluntarily. It includes personal data that you may provide at the time of contacting us in relation to our services, when making an enquiry about our services, during the course of any intellectual property matter, or when requesting further services.

We may receive information about you from third parties in connection with our services. For example, we may:

- collect information about you from a third party such as an overseas agent or other professional advisor in order for us to contact you about our services or who may refer you to us;
- collect information from regulatory bodies or enforcement authorities; or
- collect information from publically available or other sources to verify your identity in connection with our anti-money laundering procedures.

Cookies

Like many other websites, our website uses cookies (including analytics cookies) to obtain an overall view of visitor habits and visitor volumes to our website.

It is possible to switch off cookies by setting your browser preferences. For more information on how we use cookies and how to switch them off on your device, please visit our Cookies Policy at <https://forresters-ip.com/cookie-policy/>.
